MR. S. E. THOMPSON TO ADDRESS C. E. SOCIETY

Well Known Alumnus Is Consulting Engineer And Authority On Concrete

The next meeting of the Civil Engineering Society will be held tomorrow afternoon in Room 6 Lowell at 4.15 o'clock.

Mr. Sanford E. Thompson, a well-known graduate of the Institute in the class of 1889, will be the speaker and has given as his subject, "Lessons to be Drawn from Failures in Concrete." The lecture will be similar to one which Mr. Thompson delivered some time ago before a large audience at the University of Illinois and will be well illustrated with a number of antern sides. These include pictures of some large buildings which have failed due to frost and other causes.

The subject of re-enforced concrete is one which has developed with great rapidity during the last ten years and will undoubtedly become more and more important in the future. It is thought by many that this is the substance which will in time be called upon to replace wood as the supply of the latter becomes more and more scarce. For these reasons it is important that all engineers, particularly those engaged in structural work, should be well up in the latest development of this subject.

Mr. Thompson is a consulting engineer in Boston and is one of the very highest authorities on concrete in this country, having made a specialty in this line of work. He is the author of a number of books, the best known being (Taylor and Thompson) "Concrete, Plain and Re-enforced," which is a standard book for reference.

Mr. Thompson has always been very much interested in the Civil Engineering Society, having ben one of the charter members when the society was organized in 1888.

HONOR CONFERRED

Academie Des Beaux Arts Make Prof. Despradelle A Member

Announcement has reached this city from Paris that Desire Despradelle, Rotch Professor of Architectural Design at the Institute, has been elected a corresponding member of the Academie des Beaux Arts, to succeed Warren Whitney of New York, who has been promoted to foreign associate. Professor Despradelle is considered one of the foremost architects in America, and his many notable works have earned for him this signal honor.

In the Paris Salon of 1900 he was awarded first medal for the design of a monument dedicated to "the glory of the American Nation," and entitled "The Beacon of Progress."

He has been awarded many other medals in Paris and Rome, and in the former city, as assistant inspector of buildings and national palaces, he assisted in the building of many public and private edifices.

Another use for the mysterious ultra-violet ray is reported to have been found by Prof. E. P. Gorham of Brown University. It is claimed that he has discovered a way to destroy all traces of disease germs which exist in food products, and is only experimenting to find the most economical way of applying his dicovery commercially.

1911 EASILY TAKES FIRST PLACE IN INTERCLASS MEET

1912 Comes Second---Capt. Allen Star Point Gainer---No New Records

Capturing six first places, four seconds, three thirds and two fourths, the Juniors with a score of 50 points won the spring interclass meet at Tech Field Saturday. Four first, 4 seconds, 2 1-2 thirds and 3 1-2 fourths went to the Sophs, making their score 40 1-2. The Freshmen were third with 32 1-2 points and the Seniors finished with 27 points.

Captain R. H. Allen 1910, was high point scorer, taking first in the low hurdles, second in the broad jump and discus throw and third in the high jump, making a total of 13 points to his credit.

W. C. Salisbury and O. V. Chamberlain were the stars for the Juniors, both men taking 10 points each. Salisbury easily won the 220-yard and 440-yard dashes. Chamberlain won the shotput, placed second in the hammer throw and took third in the discus.

As was expected, L. O. Mills 1911 carried off the Batchelder cup in the mile. He lead the field from the very start and was in no danger of being overtaken at any time. W. J. Pead, Jr. 1910 again won the Hurd cup for the high hurdles. Salisbury won the Rockwell cup for the winning of the quarter.

Before the meet P. D. White 1911 was conceded the winner of the half-mile but for the first lap it looked as though he would not come up to expectations. He was running fourth then, but came up to first with a fast sprint and placed first just ahead of R. W. Bylund, the Freshman distance runner.

In the two-mile, Capt. H. G. Watkins 1912, of the cross country team, led the entire distance. The Ferry brothers and DeWitt 1911 fought out an interesting race for second. E. E. Ferry 1912 finally clinching that place leaving third position to DeWitt.

R. H. Gould 1911 and H. G. Burnham 1913 finished so close in the 220-yard dash that it was only after consultation that the judges were able to decide upon the winner. Gould crossed the tape just a trifle ahead of Burnham.

The summary:—

100-yard dash—First heat won by C. E. Trull 1913, H. G. Burnham 1913 second; second heat won by J. S. Grant 1912, J. J. Strachan 1913 second; final heat won by C. E. Trull 1913, H. G. Burnham 1913 second, J. J. Strachan 1913 third, J. S. Grant 1912 fourth. Time, 11s.

FIRST EIGHT PICKED

Crew Working Daily On Charles ---Making Good Times

Captain Gere 1912 of the crew has announced that the Technology eight have arranged to row the Harvard senior crew in the near future. There is also some talk of a race with Princeton, but nothing definite has been decided upon.

Owing to the fact that only one shell is available, the list of candidates was cut to about ten men a short while ago. Manager Herreschoff expects to have another boat soon, and then the other candidates will be given a chance to try out for the second eight.

Lately the crew has rowed as follows: Capt. W. N. Gere: stroke, A. G. Herreschoff 1912; H. S. Gott 1911, S. R. Robertson 1912, J. E. Whittlesey 1912, W. M. Ruby 1912. John Ahlers 1910 and E. O. Upham 1912 bow; with E. B. Wttlengel 1912 as coxswain.

Coach O'Leary held time trials over the 1 7-8 Harvard course last week, and although he did not announce the times, he says that they were even better than he expected.

Madrid, April 24.—A portion of the mountain side has slipped near Manresa, 30 miles from Barcelona, destroying the convent of San Pablo. A number of nuns were buried in the ruins. Three bodies have been recovered and nine of the nuns have been rescued. They are seriously injured.

SOPHOMORES BEAT WINCHESTER HIGH

Come Back Strong After Score Was 6 To 0 Against Them And Win By One Run

In one of their most interesting games this season, the Sophomore baseball team Saturday turned defeat into victory and beat Winchester High by the score of 8 to 7.

Winchester had a lead of 6 to 0 at the end of the third inning, but the Sophs braced and pulled in three runs in the fourth and three in the sixth. In the seventh Winchester made another run, putting them ahead. The Sophomores broke this up by scoring two runs in the next inning and holding Winchester down in the ninth.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor of The Tech,—

Dear Sir:—The editorial which appeared in Thursday's Tech seems to me to be a little hasty in its condemnation of the Honor System. I have made a very careful investigation of its operation in some fifteen colleges, both through students and members of the faculty, and in no case has there been the slightest dissatisfaction. On the other hand, the expression used in more than one case was that "both students and faculty regard the Honor System as their most treasured institution, and would not part with it under any consideration." I cannot bring myself to believe that these statements were other than the most sincere.

The proctor system implies a doubt of the student's honor, which cannot but feel obnoxious to him, and if the introduction of the Honor System at Technology would have any tendency to instill the ideals of honor into them, I for one should feel that it had amply answered its purpose.

Wherever the Honor System is successfully operated there is not the slightest tendency on the part of the students to fail to report anyone detected in cheating. The principals of honor are so thoroughly infused in the men that they will not tolerate anyone in their midst who is detected in any violation of the Honor System. The spirit of Honor is the natural result of the Honor System and not necessarily its forerunner. W. C. WEST.

The editorial on the Honor System which appeared in the Tech was not perhaps as hasty and unpremeditated as is implied in Mr. West's communication. The Tech has, not only this year, but in previous years, investigated this question of the Honor System.

Members of the faculty and students who have seen the system applied have been spoken to and we have on file a considerable correspondence from colleges running under the Honor System.

This whole matter was brought before the faculty in 1902 and it was thought at that time that the Honor System was not the best thing for the Institute. Since then, conditions have in no wise changed; we have not acquired our own campus, our own dormitories, nor the strong sentiment among students which results from these.

Mr. West's communication implies that the Honor System has been informally successful wherever it has been applied. This is far from being true. The system has been abandoned by the University of Vermont; a Williams man says that the conditions at that college have become exceedingly bad since the introduction of the system; and a man from a southern college declares, "I would certainly vote against the introduction of an Honor System at Tech, because at home it worked much injustice and, while it prevented cheating, it was a heavy burden on the students."

Let us consider in what way the Honor System would remedy the faults of proctoring. Would we really be upon our honor, or would be substituting for the vigilance of proctors, the vigilance of all our friends and enemies? And if each man were busy with his own examination would he have the time as well as inclination to watch those around him?

The work of enforcing the Honor System would fall upon some student committee, and the men composing this committee would by no means have a light task. Tech men should consider carefully whether they wish to acquire this further burden in order to gain the questionable advantages of the "Honor" System.

Mr. West is to be commended for his unselfish and earnest affort to do something which he believes will benefit the Institute. But it does not seem that the Honor System is necessary or would be for the good of Technology.

WEATHER REPORT.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Generally cloudy with showers, light easterly winds.

The expeditions planned jointly by the Peary Arctic Club of New York and the National Geographic Society for the discovery of the South Pole, has been abandoned for this year at least. Lack of funds is the reason.

The beginning of the third week of the baseball season, finds both Boston teams standing rather poorly in their respective leagues. The Boston Americans are tied for fourth place with Cleveland, having played eight games and won four, while the Doves are contesting wtih Brooklyn for sixth place honors, showing two games won out of seven played. Both teams are weak at the bat.

A disastrous fire which started Saturday has wiped out over twenty blocks of the city of Lake Charles, Louisiana, the property loss alone being estimated at over three million dollars. Many houses were dynamited in vain attempts to check the flames ,and hundreds of people have been left homeless.

Newfoundland is being boomed as an agricultural country, and the government has gone to the extent of offering land free as an inducement to immigrants. Sir Edward Morris, premier of Newfoundland, is in New York on his way to a treaty conference at The Hague, and made the following statement about his province:

"There are millions of acres in Newfoundland capable of producing every crop which can be raised in New York State." We can offer to immigrants some land absolutely free, while in other tracts they may buy land unconditionally at a nominal price. Any man may buy 1000 acres at 30 cents an acre."

CHALLENGE TO SOPHS OF COURSE XI.

"It doesn't do to be one-sided." So that was why the live ones picked X. Which again is the reason for their baseball team—an all-Cobb layout that is simply itching to sock it to the plumbers.

So, oh you Capt. Taylor! Unless you want your course to sink prematurely into the oblivion of dark and loathsome odors, unless you are willing to bear uncontested the taunts of the cave-dwellers, unless, in a word, you want your bunch to look like "helpers" arise, arise like a loaf of Ferguson's and say no, a thousand times no, say it to infinity, and then dump the limit. And play ball! Next Friday put your Bunsen out early, bid the Doc bye-bye, and hike!

Organizations and societies all over the country are making strenuous efforts to bring about a "safer and saner" Fourth of July. Statistics of accidents and death resulting from the use of explosives are being furnished to newspapers and periodicals and circulated throughout the land. Many suggestions are being made of better ways to celebrate, the holding of public concerts, parades, torchlight processions, etc. As Mayor Fitzgerald of this city said, "It is hardly practicable to take away from the children one form of pleasure without giving them something in its place which they will regard as an equivalent. It looks as though sooner or later King Cannoneracker will be forced to vacate the soft throne he has had in the hearts of American youth."
